

MRS. MARTIN HOSTESS TO BUSINESS WOMEN—

The Business Women's Circle of the Baptist W. M. U. held a delightful meeting in the home of Mrs. R. L. Martin Monday evening at seven-thirty o'clock for mission study, based on the book "Give Ye Them To Eat."

Miss Mabel Brunson, president, presided and opened the meeting with the song, "Rock of Ages," followed with prayer by Mrs. J. A. Timmerman. After reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Miss Elsie Sellers, routine matters were disposed of.

The mission study chairman presented a lesson on the work of the Home Mission Board among the Cubans, French and Italians in our Southland. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Brunson.

A social hour followed the program, at which time the hostess served a delicious salad plate with iced drink.

Guests were Miss Mabel Little, Miss Elsie Sellers, Miss Lottie Fortner, Mrs. J. A. Timmerman, Miss Zedie Tow, Mrs. R. L. Martin, Mrs. L. P. Mullins and Miss Ruth Timmerman.

The home was attractively decorated for the meeting with baskets of lovely daffodils.

IN MEMORY OF A FRIEND

There is always a tug at the heart strings when we try to put a fitting and worthy tribute to the memory of a friend. We fail to say many nice things that ought to be said.

Brother Peacock had his distinguished personality, he belonged to himself. He was a free man. Under bondage to no man. He could not be bought with money, things, or popular prestige. He was not swayed by public opinion nor intimidated by his foes. Friends were powerless to influence him in his particular fields were followed by discussions.

CONCRETE IS CHEAPER

The first concrete pavement in the United States was in a court house square like Elba has. This was at Bellefontaine, Ohio, in 1892. The original pavement is still giving satisfactory service.

Elba's concrete pavement in the square, as well as on a number of streets, has given satisfactory service over a considerable number of years with very little expense for maintenance. Many Coffee County people would like to see all the more heavily traveled routes in Alabama paved with concrete.

This would be a wise investment of highway funds because maintenance cost per mile of any type of paving used in Alabama. And it is annual maintenance cost which determines the value of any type of road surfacing as an investment for the taxpayer's money.

Road maintenance costs from 27 states for an average period of nine years and nine months show that it costs an average of only $87.59 per mile annually to maintain concrete pavement. Figures were compiled from state highway department experience with more than 161,000 miles of 11 different types of road surfacing, of which 55,000 miles were concrete. And the concrete roads for the most part, were those which carried 1,000 vehicles a day or more.

More than three times as many miles of concrete pavement can be maintained for any specified amount of money as any of the other types of paving used on Alabama's main traveled roads. Besides, concrete gives years of safe, convenient and economical highway transportation, even where it carries thousands of cars daily.

For a more balanced economy road building, Alabama must at least pave its more heavily traveled roads with concrete, the type of service which will give the greatest economy in the long run. Certainly Alabama CAN afford concrete.

Japan does not decorate its soldiers for bravery in action.

FAMINE WILL DEFEAT SANTA CLAUS

—AN APPEAL TO ALABAMIANS

(An Editorial From The Montgomery Advertiser)

We ask every newspaper editor in Alabama to give his thoughts to this suggestion by The Advertiser, and that if these editors agree to let them take the suggestion immediately to their farm readers. Let Alabama farmers and farm wives take special care to conserve every ounce of edible staple food and store it away against the probable evil day that is NOW facing the human race!

Let us conserve our meats and staple vegetables as well as our fruits. We know how to process and store foodstuffs. If need be, we even know how to hunt and save, notwithstanding the legend that we Americans are wasteful. This is a dreadful crisis for our world. We face a turning point in human history. This isn't rhetoric. It is a plain statement of obvious fact. This world will never again be as it was before the meeting of Hitler and Chamberlain at Munich. The next few months, like the last nine months, will be months of desolation for millions of human beings in the western world.

Since last September Hitler has conquered and depleted more than 100,000,000 people. There are 80,000,000 Germans, supported by a narrow food reserve. Before the snow hits Hitler will face the possibility of the greatest famine that Europe has ever known. He will take the cream for his own people, giving only the skim milk to his helpless victims. But it is not a time of plenty for any nation. It is a time of scarcity.

Even if Hitler takes the cream and gives it to his 80,000,000 Germans it will not be enough. For a year the able-bodied workers of Europe have been under arms, and so away from their plows and sheaves. Agriculture has languished in all of Europe in consequence. The production of food has fallen off drastically. There is no surplus.

The dreaded Japanese beetle may be found in Alabama within the near future. It has just been discovered in Miami, Jacksonville and Tampa, Florida.

LEGAL NOTICE
SOUTHEASTERN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY hereby gives notice that they have completed contract with the State of Alabama for single bituminous surface treatment on Project S-8-05-1 between Troy and Elba in Rice and Coffee Counties and that the State has set the date for final settlement as July 5, 1940. All claims must be filed at our office in Ozark, Alabama, before date set for final settlement.

Fluorinated tobacco growers of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia will vote in a referendum, July 20, on a proposed Soviet marketing quota program.

A recent amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 provides for a 3-year quota beginning with the 1941 crop.

When tobacco farmers vote they will be facing a worse marketing situation than in 1939-32 period when prices were the lowest since 1915. This is said to be due to sales contracts purchased by Great Britain and France, the blockade of exports to other European countries affected by the war.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JONAH: THE OUTREACH OF GOD'S LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Jonah 3:1-10. 4:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—Salvation is of the Lord—Jonah 2:9.

"There's a witness in God's mercy. Like the witness of the sea. There's a kindness in His justice. Which is more than liberty."

"For the love of God is broader Than the measure of man's mind; And the heart of the Eternal Is most wonderfully kind."

Such is the message of the book of Jonah. How appropriate to close our series of studies on the prophets with this declaration of God's love and mercy.

I. A Second Chance (3:1-3).

Jonah had been sent to Nineveh to preach. He had refused to go. He had been swallowed by a great fish. He had been vomited out. He had been sent back to Nineveh. He had been given a second chance.

ALABAMA AGRICULTURE BEHIND PREPAREDNESS

AUBURN, Ala. — Alabama farmers are behind President Roosevelt in his efforts toward insuring American freedom through a preparedness program.

"President Roosevelt's intelligent and courageous leadership is humanity's brightest ray of hope in this world crisis," says a telegram from Howard Gray, president, Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, to Edward A. O'Neal, president, American Farm Bureau Federation. "Organized agriculture in Alabama is solid behind him."

P. O. Davis, director, has wired Secretary Wallace for the preparedness program. Davis' telegram follows:

"In behalf of humanity everywhere and in opposition to tyranny in all forms for all time the Alabama Extension Service is solidly behind President Roosevelt and his preparedness program. Dissection from you is sought for us to make maximum contribution."

Reports from throughout the state indicate that farmers are attempting to produce and save enough food and feed for their families and communities. The state indicates that farmers are attempting to produce and save enough food and feed for their families and communities.

"Under all conditions we should do a good job of living at home and we should not forget that an essential in the defense of a nation is an abundance of the products needed for living under all conditions," says Mr. Davis.

Persons in a certain section of Alabama recently complained that the state was committing depredations upon its citizens. They said that the "stick and stone" method of handling human beings was producing results. Rabbits in the particular section seemed to be doing much better than human beings. The gardens suffered dire consequences.

Persons of such conduct would be within the law in using firearms to make the cottontail quibbling on carrots. Rabbits, on the other hand, are not within the law in using firearms to make the cottontail quibbling on carrots.

"Don't shoot at a rabbit out in the woods away from your garden," said one of the gardeners. "If you do, you will be subject to prosecution." Taking "game out of season," Dr. Jones said, but he cautioned owners to be sure that the rabbit was in the vicinity of the garden when the firing takes place.
